MESSAGE FROM THE BOARD CHAIR

Coline Neilson

To the Members of the Oak Bay Volunteer Services Society:

It has been another great year for our Society.

Your Board of Directors has had a productive and truly meaningful year in advancing the interests of Oak Bay residents, particularly our senior citizens. Everything that has happened this year to advance the mission of the OBVS has come through the joint efforts of our Executive Director, our staff, and our volunteers with the encouragement and direction of the Board of Directors. The OBVS has been redesigned to meet both old and new challenges, especially in this era of COVID-19.

It has been an honour and a pleasure serving on the Board of Directors for the last five years. I wish the best to the new Board of Directors for 2020/2021.

MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Renee Lormé-Gulbrandsen

What an extraordinary time to be serving the community! While the start of our year was like every other since the inception of OBVS in 1977, the end of our fiscal year has been unprecedented. Running a virtual office, remote recruitment and onboarding of volunteers, and providing contactless services to our clients during the COVID-19 pandemic has been the result of operational innovation and intentional responsiveness for the health and safety of everyone. Through the successes, challenges and change in trajectory, our mandate has remained our guiding post as we continue to provide much-needed services to our clients with the heightened emphasis of mitigating isolation. Thank you to our staff, board of directors and volunteers for your many hours of service and unwavering commitment.

Up until March, and the change in focus to our COVID-19 Health Emergency Response, it was 'business as usual'. Our total number of clients had an increase of 11%, while our total number of volunteers increased by 9%. We continue to see growth in our client and volunteer numbers year over year. Regarding service provision, our clients received nearly 5,400 services, equating to over 8,000 hours of volunteer time. Drives continue to be our most vital service to clients at 37% of service delivery.

On the programming front, the Hop Aboard Seniors Shopping Bus continued successfully throughout 2019-2020. Delivered in partnership with Baptist Housing Society, the program offers trips to a local shopping centre for seniors living independently. It is an opportunity to be active through a light walk, shop for necessities or run errands, wrapping up with a lovely hour of connection with other clients and program volunteers. This is a beloved program by not only the clients but also our volunteers, and while the program is currently on hiatus due to COVID-19, we look forward to facilitating it again when we are able.

In the last annual report, I shared the exciting projects on the horizon for 2019-2020. I am proud to say they have all come to fruition. Our new website - www.oakbayvolunteers.org - launched in June of 2019. The website is engaging, informative and easy to navigate. The development of our new database was also completed, and with the interruption of COVID-19, we fully went into utilizing its innovative capabilities in response to running a virtual office. In August we mailed our clients the first edition of The Willow Tree - our bi-annual healthy living and healthy aging newsletter. These are a few of the many successes we had this year and it is thanks to the talented staff that we have met these goals.

OBVS is blessed to have a staff team that is knowledgeable, compassionate and collaborative. Our small team of four continues to drive administration, operations, volunteer coordination and client coordination. This year we said goodbye to Amy Penner as our Administrative Assistant and welcomed Britney Nguyen in the new role of Administrative Coordinator. Britney has an extensive background in nonprofit administration and programming, joining OBVS after a number of years with a social service agency supporting families in Alberta. Thank you to Ruth, Melinda and Britney for your continued dedication to our team and to our organization.

One of the greatest assets to OBVS is our roster of volunteers. On page 16 of this report, you will find a few of the nearly 200 volunteers that gave of their time and talents this year to the community of Oak Bay. It is with great disappointment that we are unable to host our Volunteer Recognition Event this year where we would honour the extraordinary milestones each of these individuals has reached in volunteering. To each of the award recipients - thank you for your continued service and congratulations! It is with gracious appreciation and admiration that I acknowledge the 35 years of service by Doris and Bert Dinsmore, along with 30 years of service by Honora Bowring. The legacy each of these individuals bestows upon Oak Bay Volunteer Services, the community of Oak Bay and future volunteers is invaluable.

On a final note, I want to thank the continued support of our board of directors. A knowledgeable, committed board is a gift to any Executive Director, and I am thankful to the expertise each director has shared with me over the past year. I want to particularly acknowledge Out-going Chair Coline Neilson who dedicated five years to the OBVS board of directors. Thank you, Coline, for your sage wisdom and unwavering support to the governance of OBVS.

The year ahead for Oak Bay Volunteer Services will certainly be dynamic. While we have stayed the course, and continue to provide new and revised services in response to the needs of the community, COVID-19 has created challenges and opportunities like never before. I am thankful to our staff, board and volunteers whose calm and kindness will continue to carry us through this public health crisis. I wish everyone good health and well-being during this unprecedented time.

Sincerely,

Renee Lormé-Gulbrandsen
Executive Director, OBVS

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 2020

May 16, 2020

Oak Bay Volunteer Services Society
Victoria, B.C.

To assist in the preparation of the financial statements of the Oak Bay Volunteer Services Society for the 2019-20 fiscal year, I have scrutinized the Society's balance sheet as at March 31, 2020 and the statement of operations for the twelve months then ended. In conducting my scrutiny I had available to me the documents, information and explanations I required. I have not acted in the capacity of an independent auditor and have not undertaken an assurance engagement.

Based on my scrutiny, nothing has come to my attention that would require a change to these statements to have them present fairly the financial position of the Society as at March 31, 2020 and the results of its operations for the twelve months then ended, in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied.

Yours truly,

James Holland, CFA

"The heart of a volunteer is never measured in size, but by the depth of the commitment to make a difference in the lives of others." - DeAnn Hollis

Thank you to those we honour above and to all of our volunteers for their many years of support to OBVS and the community. You all bring your talent, compassion and joy to the clients you serve and we hear often how thankful they are for your kindness.

A LEGACY OF COMPASSION, CARE AND COMMITMENT

Doria & Bert Dinsmore - 35 YEARS OF SERVICE

Both Doris and Bert began their life-long commitments to volunteering while still in high school, she as a Sunday School teacher and he as president of the Student Council and active in sports as a player and coach.

Doris went on to volunteer extensively as Camp Commissioner for Guides and Sea Rangers, provincial president of the I.O.D.E and as a Canada Week organizer for the province of P.E.I. She has always been an advocate for women's rights and programmes.

The couple moved from Calgary to Victoria in 1983 and both became involved in their new community through volunteering. Bert was on the strata council of their complex, and so remained for 12 years. He joined Oak Bay Volunteer Services Society (OBVS) where he took on duties as a driver, handyman, gardener and more. In later years he and Doris became part of the team that stuffed the water bill envelopes.

Doris also became a very active member of OBVS in her roles as office volunteer, new client visitor, shopping assistant and as a member and chair of the Board of Directors for eight years before 'retiring' to the more relaxed duties of stuffing the water bills.

When not volunteering, they loved to travel and were both avid golfers. They travelled to six continents for recreational and competitive golf, missing only South America. Bert won his last tournament at the venerable age of 82!

Both Doris and Bert said that the wonderful people they met and worked with was one of the most rewarding aspects of volunteering. We want to thank and honour them for their 35 years of dedication to OBVS, and to wish them well on the next leg of their life journey.

Helping Neighbours-in-Need Live Independently Since 1977

A Blossoming Connection: The Story of BJ and Lois

One spring afternoon, two friends shared their appreciation for the blossoming relationship they developed through Oak Bay Volunteer Services (OBVS). "I originally needed a ride to the hospital for an unplanned procedure", said BJ of her first contact with OBVS. Living on her own with adult children residing outside of Victoria, BJ looked to OBVS to find her a volunteer driver to get her to this much-needed appointment. Over the past seven years, BJ has received social phone calls, shopping support and drives to appointments, helping her live independently in the Oak Bay house she has called home for more than 60 years. "I haven't met one of your volunteers who isn't super special", she says.

An avid volunteer, Lois was looking for another volunteer opportunity that connected her to the community but also provided flexibility so she could travel and enjoy the other benefits of retirement. In 2018, Lois became an OBVS volunteer and was paired with BJ for social phone calls. The two connected right away. When BJ wanted support with weekly shopping, Lois was eager to assist. "I really appreciate Lois. She is so accommodating. And we do laugh quite a bit", says BJ. "And I am totally here for her", says Lois.

Both Lois and BJ recognize the value of aging in place and remaining at home for as long as possible. "The most important thing of all is to have the ability to make your own decisions and live life your way. That's my primary goal of volunteering", says Lois. BJ is a vibrant senior in the beautiful community of Oak Bay, and Lois along with Oak Bay Volunteers are committed to insuring she and others can continue to live independently with the help of free one-to-one volunteer services.

Did You Know?

In 2018, Volunteers dedicated nearly 8,000 hours to delivering services, including:

Companionship through visits and walks: 1,500 hours

Helpline support and referral services: 1,600 hours

Volunteer fair hopes to sow seeds of giving time

Jesse Laufer
News Staff

Oak Bay Volunteer Services (OBVS) holds its second annual Volunteer Fair, Saturday, Jan. 19 at the Monterey Recreation Centre.

The event is co-organized by the Monterey centre, and the Community Association of Oak Bay. The fair is advertised as an opportunity for adults and teens to find volunteer placements in and around Oak Bay.

"What we have is almost sort of a trade fair setup," said Renee Lormé-Gulbrandsen, OBVS executive director. "We have booths around the Monterey Rec. Centre, and we offer free drinks and light snacks.

Local businesses will provide door prizes, and then people can come and have a conversation with all the different organizations and individuals who are volunteering in Oak Bay specifically."

There should be at least 25 booths, but Lormé-Gulbrandsen hopes for 30. She said that Oak Bay has a deep volunteering community and most volunteers are retirees, many able to volunteer for multiple organizations concurrently.

"To me there's always a place for young people to participate because you know we are actually creating those little seeds of volunteerism so that when somebody gets to a different stage in their life and they say, 'boy! I have a lot more time to volunteer, why don't I look to some volunteering?'" Lormé-Gulbrandsen said.

She went on to note that across Canada, most volunteers are aging. Lormé-Gulbrandsen said that the fair will have one-off opportunities for volunteering – something that can be popular for people with busy work or school schedules – as well as chances to get in a work-out while volunteering.

In Oak Bay, that's also a demographic that requires some extra help.

The most popular service offered by OBVS is driving. OBVS keeps a list and schedule of volunteer drivers to take residents who are unable to make do by bus or taxi. The service is primarily used by older people who don't have access to personal vehicles.

"We have roughly 60 drivers at the moment," Lormé-Gulbrandsen said. "We have the biggest call for that, [it's] always the biggest need for volunteers."

Lormé-Gulbrandsen notes that drivers can be reimbursed for their mileage, and that OBVS works around a volunteer's schedule. Taking off on a cruise for a month wouldn't disqualify someone from a volunteer roster.

Those looking to get involved in the community can find more information at the volunteer fair, Jan. 19 between 1:30 and 4 p.m. at 1442 Monterey Ave.

Heart@Home: Medication Assistance at Home

With the goal of ensuring patients correctly take their medications to avoid health issues, Heart Pharmacy and homecare provider, Comfort Keepers have partnered to create the Heart@Home Program. Heart@Home provides friendly registered care aides and nurses who assist with medication management in the comfort of a client's home when an individual experiences changes to their eyesight, has challenges with opening bottles, forgets to take medication at the correct dosage and/or at the right time each day or other situations that limit regular, accurate medication adherence.

How it works:

First, the potential client meets with a Heart pharmacist to discuss their current medications and any challenges he or she has for taking medication regularly. Should the individual be a candidate for the program, the pharmacist will then contact the prescribing doctor(s) to confirm the medication and develop a daily schedule for administration. From that point on, a care aide or nurse will visit daily to administer the medication and provide a friendly visit.

If you feel you may be a good candidate for Heart@Home Program, contact a Heart Pharmacy near you to learn more.

Four Tips for Healthy Aging

By Melinda Mann, Outreach and Services Coordinator

Populations around the world are getting older. In fact, by 2031 almost 1 in 4 people in BC will be over 65 years old. That's over 1.3 million people! Seniors make important contributions to their families, communities and the economy. Older adults who stay healthy, active and independent can continue to contribute their skills, knowledge and experience to society. Here are four easy tips for healthy aging:

Tips for Healthy Aging:

1. You are what you eat!

Make sure to eat a healthy diet full of fruits and veggies and drink plenty of water. I think we can all agree that this is easier said than done. We all know that eating well is best for our bodies but it can also be confusing, especially since the Canada Food Guide has been updated and the traditional four food groups that we are used to following no longer exist. The Guide now suggests choosing plant-based protein sources such as beans and nuts rather than always choosing animal-based proteins such as meat and dairy. In addition to these new guidelines many people have specific restrictions in terms of what they can and cannot eat. If you have questions regarding your nutrition and diet you can order a free printed copy of the Healthy Eating for Seniors Handbook or speak directly to a Dietician by calling 8-1-1.

2. Get active and socialize!

Joining a social activity such as a weekly bridge game or knitting group is a great way to meet new people who share your interests.

Volunteers are the heart of Oak Bay Volunteer Services.

Our volunteers are dedicated members of the community who enjoy giving back in a variety of ways, making lasting impacts in the lives of our clients. We are always looking for talented, compassionate individuals to join our team and pride ourselves in creating an enriching experience for all who volunteer with OBVS.

Some of our more popular volunteer opportunities include:

• Drives

Volunteer drivers are a crucial part of our volunteer team. As our most popular service, drives insure a client can get to a much needed medical appointment, purchase groceries, and attend recreational activities to aid in independent living. Volunteer drivers are on a roster and are utilized based on their availability. This is our most flexible volunteering option and is the role for individuals who like to travel or require flexibility due to other obligations.

Volunteering That Fits Your Availability and Interests

• Visits

Volunteer visitors provide regular companionship in the comfort of the client's home. Whether chatting over tea or playing a game of cards, volunteers have the opportunity to bring a friendly smile to someone living alone to brighten their day. Visits are an ongoing service to ensure a continuity of care for the client and the opportunity to build a lasting relationship.

Opportunities for Fellowship at Workshops and Celebrations

• Office Helpline

Helpline volunteers are the first point of contact for the organization. Volunteers provide phone assistance to clients looking to access services, and provide information and referrals to the public. This role is hosted in our office where Helpline volunteers become an integral part of the operations of OBVS.
